

POLICY

[ENGLISH]

By requesting membership to the Pixel Photo Magazine group, the user assumes all responsibility for the material published within the group and unconditionally accepts the following:

© All published material is the property of the authors and protected by ©Copyright.

The authors assume the responsibility of being the sole owners of the published images and of holding all rights and authorizations from any third parties depicted in the photo. Any unauthorized use will be prosecuted in accordance with the provisions of the art. 1 of Law no. 633/1941 on the protection of copyright and other rights related to its exercise, as well as in the related implementation regulation contained in the Royal Decree of 18 May 1942, n. 1369 (Gazz. Uff. 3 December 1942, n. 286), as well as by the provisions contained in the civil code (art. 2575 c.c. - 2583 c.c.).

The photographers featured in the magazine are solely responsible for the photos presented and by signing their name in the title, they assume the veracity of the ownership of the photo and the privacy permissions for the people portrayed in them. Pixel Photo Magazine is not responsible for the origin of the works present, referring to the photographer all legal and legal responsibilities that may arise from incorrect use of the published photos. The photographers present in the magazine unconditionally accept what is written, exempting Pixel Photo Magazine from any disputes related to the ownership and privacy of the photos.

This is a translation of the original text performed with an automatic translator therefore please refer to the original text in Italian as the only official text of these rules.

